

MILK MATTERS MIXED.

Dealers Have Different Methods of Selling Tickets.

Consumers Are Sure of One Thing and That Is That They Are Paying More Than Formerly for the Lactical Fluid.

The milk question is occupying the attention of Burlington consumers to a great extent at the present time, and many people are at a loss to know just what they were really paying for milk. A Free Press representative interviewed several prominent milk dealers yesterday in order to clear up the matter.

On September 1st the price of milk was raised from 4 to 7 cents per quart for milk delivered at the door. The dealers give several reasons for the advance in price. One is the great advance in the cost of feed, nearly all kinds being almost double the price of last year. Another reason is the advance in wages demanded by help and the difficulty in getting competent help even at the higher price. Another important factor in the advance in the price of milk is the new milk standard demanded by the State board of health which requires that all milk shall pass a test showing a certain per cent of fat. This law is expensive for the dealer as it requires buildings to be altered, more care in feeding, and many conditions that formerly existed changed to comply with the law.

Probably one of the most vital reasons for the advance is the high price of butter at the present time, making it much more profitable for the farmers to sell to creameries than to the milk dealers. Here the creamery becomes a strong competitor with the milk dealer and works toward the raising of the price of milk. The price of milk sold to the dealer will not let it go for less than $1.15 or $1.20 per hundred, as he can make it into butter and sell it for $1.50 a hundred, besides making from 15 to 20 cents a hundred for his skim milk. This is also true of the dealer who can sell his milk as butter and then sell both butter and skim milk for more than it would bring if sold from the wagon. The causes of the advance in the price of milk is, then, increased cost of feed, advance in wages, health requirements and the high price of butter. Dealers say that the price of milk will probably remain at 7 cents all winter, and that it will not be likely to advance more unless pushed up by the advance of other commodities.

While a uniform price is supposed to be maintained among the dealers of 7 cents straight for milk sold for cash, their method of selling milk tickets varies. Some sell 10 tickets for 60 cents, which costs the consumer two cents more on the dollar than to buy for cash. The advantage urged here is that the consumer has the tickets and does not leave his money in the hands of the dealer. In this way the consumer could buy the same amount of milk for 60 cents cash, but he pays 60 cents for 10 tickets. Other dealers are giving a 10 and a half tickets for $1, which is a saving of one and one-half cents on the dollar, while still others are selling 15 tickets for $1, making a saving of 5 cents on the dollar.

Dealers whose milk fell below standard, as examined by the State Laboratory from July 12 to August 10, 1907, are as follows: Thomas Ryan, Mrs. J. B. Ritchie, H. H. Wheeler, James Downing, Dennis Bourne, William Suckeloff, Mrs. F. S. Collins, C. C. Bliss, H. L. Chittenden, R. C. Chase, E. N. Horton, Mrs. F. S. Bates, J. E. E. May, H. A. Hixby, A. J. H. Buck, C. K. Tyler, W. E. Hays, D. J. Millham & Son.

Dealers whose milk fell below standard from July 12 to August 10 are as follows: O. E. Barber, A. N. Houck, J. V. Vena, R. C. Chase, E. N. Horton, Mrs. F. S. Bates, J. E. E. May, H. A. Hixby, A. J. H. Buck, C. K. Tyler, W. E. Hays, D. J. Millham & Son.

WELL-KNOWN MUSICIAN.

Death of George Allen of Philadelphia—Burial Here Saturday.

The body of George Allen, who will be remembered by Burlingtonians as a fine violin player, was brought to this city for burial Saturday, the service and interment taking place at Lake View cemetery following the arrival of the one o'clock train.

Mr. Allen died in Philadelphia Wednesday morning at 67 years of age and is survived by his wife, one son and one daughter. He was a cousin of the Misses Converse of this city.

Mr. Allen's early life was spent largely in this city and he studied law in the office of the late Hon. Daniel Roberts. He was admitted to the bar here in the early 60s. He was gifted, however, with great musical talent, and, with the exception of comparatively brief experiences in law and business, his life was for the most part devoted to music, in which he gained a high reputation.

Cools the Skin

Summer heat causes numerous skin troubles. Rashes, hives, chafing, prickly heat, itching and excessive perspiration are cured and the skin kept cool and clean by bathing with warm water and

Glenn's Sulphur Soap

Sold by all druggists.

Glenn's Hair and Whisker Dye Black or Brown, 50c.

BOOK BINDING AND PRINTING

It will cost you nothing to get prices and we have been able to gain and satisfy so many good customers that we feel sure that you also will find our print shop and bindery able to serve you to your complete satisfaction.

THE FREE PRESS PRINTING CO., Burlington, Vt.

MAKES WORK EASIER

Burlington People Are Pleased to Learn How It Is Done.

It's pretty hard to admit to doing with a constantly aching back. With annoying urinary disorders. Doan's Kidney Pills make work easier. They cure backache. They cure every kidney ail. Mrs. Charles Ross, of 72 Monroe St., Burlington, Vt., says: "My husband was bothered for almost six years with a constant aching across his back and kidneys, and often while he was sitting a sharp pain would catch him and it would be some little time before he could get up. He had headaches and spells of dizziness and at night he was so nervous that he could not sleep. Any cold was sure to settle on the kidneys. He finally became so bad that he thought he would have to give up work. It was at this time that Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to our notice, and I procured him a box at the Park Drug Store. As the medicine acted thoroughly on his system there was noticeable change for the better. He continued the treatment until the pain had disappeared and he could sleep well at night. Three boxes were enough to complete a cure."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McClellan Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

VERMONT NEWSPAPER MEN.

Annual Meeting of the State Press Association Held Thursday Evening.

The postponed annual meeting of the Vermont Press Association was held at the parlors of the Van Ness House Thursday night. It is members being in attendance: F. L. Greene of St. Albans, the president of the association, presided. Col. Albert Clarke of Boston, for many years a prominent Vermont newspaper man, was elected an honorary member of the association. A committee composed of A. E. Stone of St. Johnsbury, J. L. Southwick of Burlington, H. L. Hindley of Montpelier, H. B. Parker of Randolph, D. H. Lewis of Hyde Park was appointed to prepare resolutions on the death of Col. G. G. Benedict. Some matters of interest only to the newspaper men were disposed of and officers were elected as follows: President, A. E. Stone of St. Johnsbury; Secretary and Treasurer, H. C. Whitcomb of White River Junction.

Vice-presidents, R. W. McCuen of Vergennes, P. E. Howe of Bennington, J. B. Chase of London, W. J. Bigelow of Burlington, W. H. Bishop of Island Pond, F. L. Greene of St. Albans, L. H. Lewis of Hyde Park, L. B. Johnson of Randolph, D. H. Lewis of Hyde Park, C. T. Fairchild of Rutland, F. E. Langley of Barre, W. C. Benken of Bellows Falls and J. W. Saul of Ludlow.

DEATH OF MRS. SHANLEY.

End Came As a Release from Long Period of Suffering.

The death of Mrs. Margaret Amanda Shanley, wife of Robert J. Shanley, occurred Thursday morning at her home, 30 South Union street, after a long illness. Her death will come as a shock to her friends and acquaintances, of which she had a host in the city. During her illness she suffered greatly, but she bore it with the greatest fortitude, always having a smile of welcome for all. Mrs. Shanley was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Miller of St. Albans and was a graduate of the Oswego, N. Y. Normal school. Two years previous to her marriage she taught in the Burlington public schools. She was a member of St. Paul's Church and took an active interest in the work of the parish. She was also a member of the K. G. club. Mrs. Shanley is survived by her husband and four children, Harold H., Margaret, Ruth and Robert J., Jr., and also by her father and one sister, Mrs. George P. Puttridge of St. Albans.

The funeral was held at the residence on Saturday at 2:30 p. m., with interment in Lake View cemetery.

What Our Reporter Saw in New York.

A recent visit to one of the largest paint factories in the world, disclosed machinery that was producing 10,000 gallons of paint, and doing it better and in less time than 100 gallons could be made by hand mixing.

This was the celebrated L. & M. Paint. The L. & M. Zinc hardens L. & M. White Lead and makes L. & M. Paint wear like iron for 10 or 15 years. 4 gallons L. & M. mixed with 3 gallons Linseed oil will produce a coat of paint at a cost of less than $1.25 per gallon. If any defect exists in L. & M. Paints will repaint house for nothing. Donations of L. & M. made to churches. Sold by H. M. Hull, Hinesburgh; S. B. Woodworth, Winooski; F. H. Plagg & Son, Richmond; W. S. Nay & Co., Underhill; C. H. Hatch & Co., Waterbury; S. B. Wilson, Fairfax.

BABBITT FAMILY MEETING.

A family meeting of all descendants of Edward Babbitt, whose name at a later period has written Babbitt and who was one of the first settlers of Taunton, Mass., has been appointed to take place in Taunton on Oct. 2, 1907 at 9 o'clock a. m.

The meeting will be held in Historical hall, under the auspices of the Old Colony Historical society. Whether bearing the family name or otherwise are earnestly invited to attend the meeting.

The day's program will include the organization of an historical and genealogical association of the family, followed by literary and musical exercises. All inquiries will be cordially received and promptly answered by the chairman of the executive committee, Mr. Rollin H. Babbitt, lock box 64, Taunton, Mass.

THERE, THOUGH UNSEEN.

It was an interesting pair of little maidens that peered into the window of the local photographer, for in that window was a picture of the annual procession of the village school-children, in which the two had taken part.

Suddenly one of them gave a simultaneous shriek and jump.

"What's the matter, Aggie?" asked the other.

"You see Mary Ann there in the picture?" was the reply.

"Yes."

"Well, you see them shoes behind her?"

And the other girl said she did.

"Well," said Aggie, with a note of pride in her fresh young voice, "that's me."

And for full five minutes longer the two children gazed at "Aggie's photograph," with unflagging interest.

VERMONT NOTES

Over 900 people have registered at the Summit House, Mount Mansfield, this season, the largest number in the history of the hotel.

Alexander Tuscany, of St. Albans and Herbert Donaldson of Swanton on one day took 43 pickered from Charnol creek, Swanton, averaging five pounds in weight.

Frank Ritch of Roxbury was melting lead to run bullets when some of the molten metal flew up and struck him in the eye, probably destroying the sight.

Sixty members of the Bellows Falls boat club have effected a permanent organization. It is expected that the club house will be formally opened about September 15.

Eames H. Hopkins of Rutland has been appointed district deputy exalted ruler of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Rutland. The district of Vermont, to succeed R. C. Bowers of Montpelier.

The International Advent Christian conference of northern Vermont, northern New Hampshire and Quebec will be held at the A. C. Church in Morrisville in the early part of October.

At the third annual meeting of the Vermont State Rural Letter Carriers' association held in White River Junction last week it was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Essex Junction.

The new Morrisville municipal dam has been closed, and "Lake Wabun" is rapidly filling, over half of the acreage being flooded. A rise of about five feet will cause the water to flow over the top of the dam.

Little Agnes Collins of Montpelier was sitting in her uncle's wagon when the wagon suddenly started on the run. At first Agnes said she did not know what had happened, but she apparently unhurt.

Richford is to hold a village meeting September 11 to discuss general improvements. A new building for the department, widening Main street, the purchase of the old grist mill and saw mill property and street lighting are matters to be taken up at that time.

Senator Proctor says that the new fish hatchery will be located on the west side of the State. All the sites proposed have been rejected except Bristol, Pittsford and East Arlington. It will not be definitely decided until the result of the experiment at East Arlington is determined.

Hale K. Darling of the revision commission, who has had a force of clerks at work with him at Chelsea all summer on the index to the public statutes, has the matter all in the hands of the printers, and the proof is now being read. Mr. Darling says the work will be completed this month.

Mitch Hay of Barton, just discharged from prison, where he has been doing time for horse stealing, lost no time in resuming his old habits. He borrowed $15 from his father and went to the barn of Wilbur Moulton, lighted a lantern and harnessed the horse. Mr. Moulton found the lighted lantern next morning but no trace of the rig can be discovered.

One of the features of the coming G. A. R. encampment at Saratoga will be the giant guard of 46 veterans. Every man must be at least six feet in height and of proportionate build. George W. Bridgman of Hardwick has been chosen to represent Vermont. He is fully up to the standard physically with a corresponding good military record.

It was planned to have a reunion of the three war governors of the United States at the national G. A. R. encampment at Saratoga this week. They are Frederick Holbrook of Vermont, Samuel J. Crawford of Kansas, and William Sprague of Rhode Island. Ex-Governor Holbrook's car for his health, however, will not permit him to attend.

Ray Taylor of Fairfax accused Amos Rugg, who was pushing a wheelbarrow, and asked him what he would charge to wheel him home, three miles distant. Mr. Rugg thought $2 would be a fair price and the offer was taken. Mr. Rugg stopped only once, then to take off his coat and covered the distance in about an hour.

Three Italians, arrested at Whitehall, N. Y., for the shooting of Robert Metcalf of Hydeville, have been discharged on account of insufficient evidence. A party of Fair Haven men and the Italians got into a discussion at the station and Metcalf was slashed in the hip. It was not possible to positively identify the man who did the deed. The wound was not a dangerous one.

Three days after his wife had given birth to a daughter, Harry Perkins of Morrisville deserted her. He bought a ticket to Boston but further than that nothing is known of his whereabouts. Mrs. Perkins is 30 years old and well liked in Morrisville, but her husband is said to be a hard drinker and a heavy debtor, the latter reason probably being the cause of his desertion.

Richard Lake, a Guilford farmer, has been obliged to pay $50 to the Brattleboro Creamery association and forfeit his right to sell his cream there because of a fraud perpetrated by him. His high test, roused suspicions and an investigation revealed the fact that he had a special can from which the cream gather always took his test sample. This can contained much higher grade cream than the others and therefore brought him a much larger cream check than was his due.

W. E. Curtis, writing from Rutland to the Chicago Record-Herald, tells of a young lady in that locality who is suffering from a most peculiar nervous malady. She sees and writes in reversed order. To read she is obliged to use a mirror and other people in reading her letters have to employ the same means. In all other respects she is normal. She has just returned from a European trip, during which she enjoyed the sights the same of a fraud perpetrated by him.

An unpleasant sequel to the Rutland county fair was a fracas between L. N. Chase of Brandon and Arthur Granger of Rutland. Mr. Chase engaged Mr.

Granger to take photographs of his prize winning horses and the photographer had trouble in collecting his fee. The matter being placed in the hands of the sheriff, Mr. Chase's share of the prize money was attached and in the interview that followed Mr. Chase is said to have used abusive language against Mr. Granger, knocked off his hat and attempted to strike him. The photographer avoided a fight as his assailant is a one-armed man.

Eugene Ritchie, who three weeks ago disappeared from his home in Rutland, astonished his wife Wednesday evening by walking into the house. Since his disappearance Ritchie has not been heard from until Mrs. Ritchie's sister, Mrs. Olla Bromley of Whitehall, met him in Richfield, N. Y., where he was working in a livery stable. She told him that his wife was very ill with nervous prostration and that if he did not go home she would die. Ritchie started immediately. He stated that he left because of debts which amounted to about $100. The most of these he owed to a grocer who threatened to have him arrested. Ritchie states that he has come home to stay and pay up his debts.

The Mexican clock, said to be 350 years old, which will be the gift of the late Mary L. Aldrich of Berlin now goes to her niece and nephews, and at the death of the last of these this ancient relic shall be the property of the historical society at the State House. Mrs. Aldrich provided in her will that the clock should go to her nephews and nieces, and at the death of the last of these this ancient relic shall be the property of the historical society at the State House.

A library in Harro, this clock was purchased in Mexico about 1850 by Sylvester Aldrich, then of Harro.

SMALLPOX SCARE COST $50. Dr. H. D. Holton, secretary of the State board of health, has asked the town of Berlin to investigate a complaint made to him that a man who had smallpox in West Berlin last spring endeavored to conceal the fact of his illness from the proper authorities. Dr. J. M. Huse, health officer for that town, who was complimented by the State board of health for his intelligent and efficient manner in which he took charge of the epidemic at West Berlin last spring, has informed the State's Attorney that he is familiar with the facts of the case. He stated that he made it was partially his work, the patient, who is a poor man, recovered and that no prosecution of the case should be made. This smallpox scare cost the town of Berlin $50 for 40 days at $1 per day and incidental expenses.

WHAT TAFT'S FRIENDS CLAIM. Figure for Him 622 Votes Out of 1,000 at the National Convention. (Columbus Dispatch to Phila. North American)

With virtually the same political conditions prevailing in Ohio that were paramount in 1896, Secretary of War William H. Taft has a better chance for the nomination for president by the Republican party than did President William McKinley, according to Taft's friends here.

The same fight of the horses against the people is being enacted, and Senator Foraker is employing the same tactics against Secretary Taft that he employed against McKinley.

With one exception, the fight in Ohio, at least, will show beyond peradventure of doubt and the same was. The exception is that Senator Foraker will not be indulged for another term as Senator. Mr. McKinley, compared with Foraker, Taft is a fighter. There will be no compromise.

If the Republican National convention were to be held six months from now, Secretary Taft would be nominated on the first ballot, with almost 600 of the 1,000 votes in the convention. Unless some new factor comes into the picture, feeling between the two and the meeting of the convention, it is likely that he will be chosen on the first ballot.

The territory west of the Mississippi River may be used on for Taft, say his friends. Many of these States are now for Roosevelt. I will listen to nothing but the cheering of Robert Metcalf of Hydeville, have been discharged on account of insufficient evidence. A party of Fair Haven men and the Italians got into a discussion at the station and Metcalf was slashed in the hip. It was not possible to positively identify the man who did the deed. The wound was not a dangerous one.

Washington, D. C., August 31. California, 20; Nevada, 16; Oregon, 9; Arizona, 8; New Mexico, 6; Idaho, 6; Montana, 6; Wyoming, 6; Kansas, 20; Missouri, 20; Oklahoma, 15; Nebraska, 10; Iowa, 20; South Dakota, 15; North Dakota, 8; Minnesota, 10. South are the same as in the West, and the number of votes in the Southern States is 24.

McKinley has no supporters, and her 25 votes the party want to cast for Taft. Ohio's 25 votes for Taft; West Virginia's 14 votes for Taft; this gives a total of 222, of course, it would be 243 if the votes in these States were counted. McKinley has no supporters, and her 25 votes the party want to cast for Taft. Ohio's 25 votes for Taft; West Virginia's 14 votes for Taft; this gives a total of 222, of course, it would be 243 if the votes in these States were counted.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States, and there are plenty of votes in the New England States to make up the difference.

Today, with the people of the South and West understanding perfectly that President Roosevelt will not accept another term, Secretary Taft is not home. He is in the hands of the Southern States